Reviews

The ebook is great and fantastic. We have read and i also am sure that i am going to likely to go through once again again down the road. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

Createspace, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 213 x 137 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .With an uncensored and humorous voice, Judyie Al-Bilali, theatre director and Fulbright Scholar, shares her years as a visiting artist in post apartheid South Africa. In the midst of a divorce, Al-Bilali s world is disintegrating as the whole world is reeling from 9/11. In her travels she not only develops a passion for the newly democratic South Africa, she engages in a tumultuous love affair with a younger man, a Congolese refugee who becomes her emotional anchor in a foreign land. Comparable to the phenomenally successful Eat, Pray, Love by Elizabeth Gilbert, Al-Bilali writes with startling candor, poetry and political insight from the unique perspective of an African American woman at the crossroads of mid-life. South Africa is in a self-described state of Transformation and offers the ideal atmosphere for an educational project devoted to social change. Al-Bilali s theatre company, Brown Paper Studio, connects people first to themselves and then to each other. It grows into a way of life for the young people who participate and who ultimately form a creative community that continues to thrive to this day. At the heart of the story is her unlikely relationship with a partner many years younger; a person displaced by war existing in the margins on the outskirts of the edge. Along the way she shares aspects of her history prior to living in Africa: the basics of her training in theatre, the contradictions of living in the multiple worlds of class and race in America and her ultimate battle, facing one s mortality in a prolonged bout with cancer. Al-Bilali s frank, vulnerable and compelling memoir reveals how she must balance the needs of her...
