Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Mechanics of Architecture: A Treatise on Applied Mechanics Especially Adapted to the Use of Architects The numerous works that have been written upon the subject of Applied Mechanics seem to be generally intended more for the use of the Engineer than the Architect. The training of the Engineer being essentially a scientific one, he is compelled to devote much time to the study of mechanics; while the Architect, whose chief aim is to become an Artist, has to give most of his hours of study to the arts of drawing and designing; so that he has but little time, and often less inclination, to make acquaintance with the science of his profession, being generally contented to take his formulae from some pocket-book, without caring to enquire into the principles upon which those formulae are based. In the following pages the Author has endeavoured to supply a want which is felt by many Architects, by bringing together, in a small compass, all that it is essential for the Architect to know upon this subject, and...
